

NUCLEAR WEAPONS, NZ & NORWAY: MAKING DISARMAMENT PROGRESS IN 2013

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF NEW ZEALAND (AITKEN ST ENTRANCE)
21 FEBRUARY, 6PM–7.30PM

It is time to reframe the nuclear weapons debate and better understand the humanitarian and environmental threats posed by these weapons of mass destruction, as we work toward their complete elimination.

The Norwegian Government is hosting an International Conference in Oslo on the humanitarian impacts of nuclear weapons in early March 2013.

This seminar explores in more detail what these threats are and how New Zealand with its independent and principled voice on nuclear issues can maximise its impact in Norway and once again move to a position of global leadership on nuclear disarmament.

Come along, learn more. Seminar followed by light refreshments.
